An Invitation

The Edmonton Community Theatre was re-organized this fall to permit a stream-lining of executive responsibilities and a widening of the scope of its activities. It continues the life of the Edmonton Little Theatre which during the past fifteen years presented fifty-seven major productions to the public. The organization has one objective—"To encourage by example and assistance the development of amateur dramatics throughout the community". This is YOUR Community Theatre. It lacks only one thing — YOUR advice and assistance. Your application for membership will be most welcome.
